2. Except as is hereinafter (in these rules) otherwise provided, no goods shall be transhipped unless and until—

- a tranship permit covering the same is produced;
- the transhipment fees, if any, payable in respect thereof have been paid;
- an order to let tranship has been obtained in writing on the tranship permit.

3. (1) When it is desired to tranship goods (not being arms and ammunition or explosives or petroleum as defined respectively in the Arms, Explosives and Petroleum Acts), from one steamer to another and the receiving steamer is to start within twenty-four hours of the arrival of the discharging steamer, such transhipment may be effected within the said period with the permission and under the superintendence of the Preventive Officer on board, in anticipation of the production of a tranship permit and of the payment of the transhipment fees, if any, payable in respect thereof; provided that the Agent or Master of the discharging steamer furnishes the said Preventive Officer with a list of all the goods which it is desired so to tranship.

(2) The tranship permit for the goods so transhipped shall be obtained and the transhipment fees, if any, payable in respect thereof shall be paid immediately after the Import General Manifest has been put in.

4. When goods are discharged for transhipment before entry inwards of the vessel under special pass granted under Section 59 of the Sea Customs Act VIII of 1878, the cargo boats into which such goods have been so discharged shall remain alongside the discharging vessel at ship's risks until either a tranship permit has been produced or a list of such goods has been furnished, as the case may be, to the Preventive Officer on board the discharging vessel.

5. In the case of dutiable goods or goods the importation of which into British India is restricted by any law and the transhipment of which is not subject to any special regulations, leave to tranship to any foreign port on the continent of India or any port in Ceylon, other than a port included in any Customs Union with the British Indian Government, shall not be given unless the goods are to be transhipped into a steamer.

6. When goods which are to be transhipped are temporarily deposited on a wharf or in a shed, the Preventive Officer or Wharfinger shall not allow the removal of the said goods, or any of them, from the wharf or shed without the production of all such documents as are required by these rules.

Whereas by the Indian Tariff Act No. III of 1896, Schedule III, No. 1, a special ad valorem duty of 5 per cent. is imposed on spirit rendered unfit for human consumption imported into British India, His Excellency the Governor in Council is pleased, in exercise of the power conferred by Section 155 of the Sea Customs Act, 1878, to make the following rules for ascertaining and determining what spirit imported in the Port of Karachi shall be deemed to have been effectually and permanently so rendered unfit, and for causing such spirit to be so rendered if necessary :

(1) Whenever an importer makes entry in accordance with Section 86 of the Sea Customs Act of any spirit intended to be used as aforesaid, he shall state on the Bill of Entry relating thereto whether he claims to import it on payment of the above special duty only or is willing to pay the ordinary rate prescribed by the Indian Tariff Act for spirits, viz., Rs. 6 per Imperial gallon or six quart bottles of the strength of London proof, with a pro rata increase or decrease for strengths above or below London proof respectively.

(2) If the ordinary rate of duty is paid, the spirit will be passed in the usual manner. If payment of the special duty only is claimed, the following rules shall be enforced.

(3) If the spirit is imported from the United Kingdom, and the importer produces a certificate signed by a Customs or Excise authority of the United Kingdom, and himself makes a declaration on the face of his Bill of Entry each to the effect that the spirit has been rendered effectually and permanently unfit for human consumption, such spirit may, if the Collector of Customs is satisfied with the certificate produced, and if, upon such examination of the spirit, if any, as he thinks fit to cause to be made by a Customs House Gauger, he is satisfied that the spirit has been so rendered unfit for human consumption, be admitted on payment of the special duty.

(4) If the spirit is imported from a country other than the United Kingdom, or if it is imported from the United Kingdom unaccompanied by a certificate as aforesaid, it shall be examined by a Customs House Gauger, and if upon the report of such Gauger the Collector of Customs shall be satisfied that the spirit has been rendered unfit for human consumption as aforesaid, it shall be admitted on payment of the special duty.

(5) No spirit not admitted on payment of the special duty under Rule 3 or Rule 4 shall be so admitted unless, before it is removed from the Customs House, it is rendered unfit for human consumption on the Customs House premises and in the presence of a Customs House Gauger, by admixing therewith pyroxilic spirit (methyl alcohol) in the proportion of one gallon of pyroxilic spirit to nine gallons of the imported spirit.

(6) The admixing of the spirit must be effected and the requisite pyroxilic spirit must be procured by the importer, or by his agent or authorized servant, at his own expense. Samples of pyroxilic spirit of approved quality will be kept at the Customs House, against which any pyroxilic spirit brought by an importer, or his agent or authorized servant, shall be tested by a Customs House Gauger, before the latter is used under the last preceding rule. If the latter spirit is not equal to the samples, such additional proportion thereof shall be admixed with the imported spirit as the Collector of Customs shall direct.

(7) When the admixing has been duly effected, the Customs House Gauger, in whose presence it was effected, shall certify to that effect below the importer's Bill of Entry, and the admixed spirit shall thereupon be admitted on payment of the special duty leviable thereon.

(8) If an importer is dissatisfied with the opinion of a Customs House Gauger under any of the foregoing rules, a sample of the spirit in question shall be sent for examination and report to the Chemical Analyser to Government, whose opinion thereupon shall be final.
