PART VI.

BILLS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Report of a Select Committee, together with the Bill as re-settled by them, was presented to the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 20th June 1872:

We, the undersigned, the members of the Select Committee, to which the Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to the solemnization in India of marriages of persons professing the Christian Religion was re-committed, have the honour to present this final report.

We have considered the papers noted in the margin, received after the presentation of the first report.

The Bill, as formerly settled and as published in the Gazette of India, applied (so far as regards Native States) to Christian British subjects of Her Majesty. As there are many Native Christian subjects of Her Majesty in Native States, for whom it is desirable to provide, we have struck out the word 'British' in section one, and in section nine we have authorised the Governor General in Council to license persons to grant certificates of marriage to such Native Christians. Power to do this is conferred on the Governor General in Council by Statute 32 & 33 Vic. c. 98, s. 1.

We have provided (section two) that the repeals to be effected by the proposed Act shall not invalidate any marriage confirmed by a repealed enactment (e. g. 14 & 15 Vic. c. 40, s. 24), and that appointments made and licenses granted under any repealed Act shall be deemed to be respectively made and granted under the proposed Act.

Section eleven forbids a marriage to be solemnized in any place other than a church, where there is a church within five miles of such place. We have provided that this distance shall be measured, not as the crow flies, but by the shortest road.

Sections seventeen and forty-one provide that ministers and marriage-registrars shall not issue certificates if any lawful impediment, according to the law of England, be shown to their satisfaction. We have struck out the words in italics.

In sections twenty-five and fifty-one we have provided that the two witnesses there mentioned shall be exclusive of the person solemnizing the marriage.

Section sixty contains a clause declaring that, in the case of marriage between Native Christians, the parties shall not stand to each other within the prohibited degrees of affinity. In the case of Natives there is no rule as to these degrees applicable throughout India. We have therefore struck out this clause and replaced it by a general provision that nothing in the Act shall validate any marriage forbidden by the personal law to which either of the parties is subject.

We have extended section sixty-six (as to forbidding the issue of a certificate by falsely repre-sending oneself to be a person whose consent to the marriage is required by law) to cases where the person making the representation believes it to be false, or has not reason to believe it to be true.

Sections seventy-six and seventy-seven are intended to prevent monogamists from acquiring a right to practise polygamy by changing their religion. But we are of opinion that a Bill regulating the solemnization of Christian marriages is not the proper place for such provisions, which affect persons other than Christians, and which relate to the essence of the contract of marriage, whereas the Act is intended only to govern its ceremonial and the mode of contracting it. And as we have reason to think that under the existing law a second marriage effected during the existence of a prior one contracted under the law of monogamy would be invalid, it seems to us more prudent to postpone the matter for further consideration and to make it the subject of a separate Act.

In section seventy-eight we have provided that a marriage, otherwise duly solemnized, shall not be void merely on account of irregularity in respect of the place of its solemnization.

We have empowered the Local Government to declare who shall in any place be deemed to be the District Judge, and we have authorised the Governor General in Council to delegate to any officer the powers conferred by the Act in respect of Christians in Native States.

Lastly, we have saved marriages duly performed by ministers, consuls, and consular agents of foreign States.

We have found it necessary or expedient to amend the drafting of most of the sections, and we recommend that the Bill thus altered be passed.

Provided that, if either party has dwelt in the place stated in the notice for more than one month, it may be stated therein that he or she has dwelt there one month and upwards.

39. Every Marriage Registrar shall, on receiving any such notice, cause a copy thereof to be affixed in some conspicuous place in his office.

and, where either or each of the parties is a minor,

(c) that the consent or consents to such marriage required by law has or have been obtained thereto, or that there is no person resident in India authorized to give such consent, as the case may be.

Bombay, and are desirous of being married in less than fourteen days after the entry of such notice as aforesaid, they may apply by petition to a Judge of the High Court, for an order upon the Marriage Registrar to whom the notice of marriage has been given, directing him to issue his certificate before the expiration of the said fourteen days required by section forty-one.

And on sufficient cause being shown, the said Judge may, in his discretion, make an order upon such Marriage Registrar, directing him to issue his certificate at any time to be mentioned in the said order, before the expiration of the said fourteen days so required;

And the said Marriage Registrar on receipt of the said order, shall issue his certificate in accordance therewith.

44. The provisions of section nineteen apply to every marriage under this Part, either of the parties to which is a minor;

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 20th June 1872, and was referred to a Select Committee with instructions to report thereon in a fortnight:—

Bill No. 11 of 1872.

A Bill to legalize the repayment of money deposited in District Savings Banks in the names of Minors.

Whereas it is expedient to legalize the repayment of moneys deposited in District Savings Banks in the names of minors; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called "The Minors' Deposits Act, 1872."

Local extent.

It extends to the whole of British India;

Commencement.

And it shall come into force on the passing thereof.

2. Any deposit of money heretofore or hereafter made in any District Savings Bank by, or on behalf of, any person, who has not completed the age of eighteen years, may be repaid to him or to his guardian, together with the interest accrued thereon; and the receipt of himself or his guardian shall be a sufficient discharge.

All repayments under this Act shall be made by the Secretary to the Bank, subject to such rules as the Government of India in the Financial Department may, from time to time, prescribe.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill, which is founded on Statute 26 & 27 Vic., c. 87, s. 30, is to legalize the repayment of moneys deposited in District Savings Banks by or on behalf of minors, i.e., in the words of the Indian Succession Act, persons who have not completed the age of eighteen years.

Such deposits are often made by fathers on behalf of their minor children, and hardship is sometimes caused by the impossibility (as the law stands) of providing thereout for the maintenance, clothing, and education of these minors.

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 20th June 1872, and was referred to a Select Committee with instructions to report thereon in a fortnight:—

Bill No. 12 of 1872.

A Bill for imposing a duty on certain spirits manufactured in British Burma.

For the purpose of imposing a duty on spirits manufactured at distilleries in British Burma,

Preamble. worked according to the English method; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title. 1. This Act may be called "The Burma Spirit Duty Act, 1872."

Local extent. It extends only to British Burma;

And it shall be deemed to have come into force on the first day of April 1872.

Commencement.

2. A duty shall be levied on spirits manufactured at distilleries in Duty on English spirits manufactured in Burma. British Burma, worked according to the English method, at such rate per imperial gallon, of the strength of London proof, as the Local Government with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, from time to time directs.

Such duty shall be augmented or reduced in proportion to the strength of the spirits.

3. This Act shall be taken as part of the Excise Act, 1871, and the provisions of the second and third clauses of section twenty-one of that Act shall apply to the said spirits, as if for the words "aforesaid duty," the words "duty leviable under the Burma Spirit Duty Act, 1872," were substituted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Excise Act, 1871, section twenty-one, imposes a duty of three rupees per imperial gallon on spirits manufactured according to the English process. This duty was not considered adapted to British Burma, where a heavy fee was charged for licensing distilleries in which spirits were so manufactured. That Province was, therefore, expressly excluded from the operation of section twenty-one. It is now thought advisable to alter the local practice as to charging a license-fee, and to impose a duty on such spirits at a rate to be determined, from time to time, by the Chief Commissioner with the previous sanction of the Government of India. The Bill substantially consists of a clause conferring this power upon him retrospectively from the 1st April 1872, when the Excise Act came into force in British Burma.
