PART IV.

ACTS PASSED BY THE GOVERNMENT OF BOMBAY.

The following Act of the Governor of Bombay in Council received the assent of the Right Honorable the Governor on the 4th November 1867, and the assent of His Excellency the Governor General on the 26th November 1867, and is published for general information:—

BOMBAY.

Act No. VI. of 1867.

An Act for the better Sanitary Regulation of the City of Bombay.

WHEREAS it is expedient to take measures to check the spread of infectious diseases dangerous to life in the City of Bombay, and especially with reference to vessels arriving at, or being within the limits of, the Port of Bombay; It is enacted as follows:—

I.—It shall be lawful for Government, with a view of providing for the segregation of persons suffering from any infectious disease dangerous to life, from time to time to establish, by notification, for the purposes hereinafter specified, one or more places to serve as Sanitaria for the City of Bombay, and to notify the local limits of such Sanitaria. And it shall be lawful for Government, acting under the general control of the Government of India, to appoint a Superintendent of each Sanitarium, with such establishment as may be necessary.

II.—It shall be lawful for Government to appoint a Health Officer of the Port for the purposes of this Act, and the Health Officer of the Port shall be an Assistant to, and subject to the general control of, the Consulting Officer of Health.

III.—When it shall appear to the Consulting Officer of Health, or in his absence to the Health Officer of the Port, that any person in the City of Bombay, being in the public streets or thoroughfares, or in a place of public resort, such as dhurmsallas, temple enclosures, and the like, and without proper lodging or accommodation, or being on board any vessel and without proper lodging or accommodation on shore, is suffering from an infectious disease dangerous to life, and that it is necessary for the safety of the public that he should be removed to a Sanitarium, either of the said Officers of Health may require such person to proceed to a Sanitarium, and the person so required shall be bound to proceed, or allow himself to be conveyed, to that Sanitarium, and shall be bound to remain there till one of the said Officers of Health certifies that he may go at large without danger to the public. Any such person refusing or voluntarily neglecting to obey such requisition, shall be liable to the penalties provided in Section 269 of the Indian Penal Code.

IV.—If any such person shall refuse or voluntarily neglect to proceed to the Sanitarium when duly required in the manner described in the last preceding Section, the Consulting Officer of Health, or in his absence the Health Officer of the Port, may, by a written order in the form given in the appended Schedule, direct that such person be conveyed to a Sanitarium, and such written order, signed by one of the said Officers of Health, shall be sufficient warrant for the conveyance of such person to the Sanitarium.

V.—It shall be lawful for any Magistrate of Police, on the certificate of a Covenant Medical Officer of Government, or of any Member or Licentiate of any College of Physicians or Surgeons of the United Kingdom or of India, as to the nature of the disease, and on such evidence as may be thought by him sufficient in regard to the other conditions recited in Section III. of this Act, to make requisition as in the said Section, and any person refusing or voluntarily neglecting to obey such requisition, shall be liable to the penalties provided in Section 269 of the Indian Penal Code.

VI.—When the Master or Commander of any vessel, being within the limits of the Port of Bombay, shall become aware that any person on board his vessel is suffering from any infectious disease dangerous to life, he shall immediately give notice to the Health Officer of the Port, and, pending the orders of the Health Officer of the Port, he shall either remove such person to a Sanitarium, or take other suitable precautions to prevent the spread of the disease.

If the Master or Commander shall wilfully neglect to act as directed in this Section, he shall be liable to the penalties provided in Section 269 of the Indian Penal Code.

VII.—It shall be lawful for the Consulting Officer of Health, or for the Health Officer of the Port, at any time to enter into and inspect any vessel being within the limits of the Port of Bombay, and to question the Master or Commander regarding the sanitary condition of the vessel and of the persons on board, and the Master or Commander shall be bound truthfully to answer such questions. And if the Master or Commander shall wilfully give false information to either of the said Officers, he shall be liable to the penalties provided in Section 177 of the Indian Penal Code; and if he shall refuse to answer questions put to him, he shall be liable to the penalties provided in Section 179 of the Indian Penal Code.

VIII.—If it shall appear to the Consulting Officer of Health, or the Health Officer of the Port, that any person on board a vessel within the limits of the Port of Bombay, is suffering from any infectious disease dangerous to life, he may require the Master or Commander of the vessel to remove such person, or any other person who shows premonitory symptoms of such disease to a Sanitarium, or other place on shore where, in the opinion of the Health Officer, proper lodging and accommodation are available; and the Master or Commander shall be bound to obey such requisition, and is hereby authorized and empowered to enforce such removal. And if the Master or Commander shall refuse or wilfully neglect to obey such requisition, he shall be liable to the penalties provided in Section 269 of the Indian Penal Code.

IX.—When it shall appear to the Health Officer of the Port that, owing to a person suffering from an infectious disease dangerous to life, being on board or having recently been on board any vessel within the limits of the Port of Bombay, it is expedient that measures should be taken for the disinfection of such vessel, the said Health Officer may, by an order in writing to the Master or Commander of such vessel, direct all or any part of the vessel to be forthwith fumigated or otherwise cleansed for sanitary purposes, in accordance with rules published on that behalf by Government under Section XI. of this Act; and if the Master or Commander neglect to do so within the period fixed in the said order, provided such period be not less than 24 hours from the time when such order shall have been served upon him, the said Health Officer may cause the same to be done, and the expenses incurred shall be paid by the owner or the Master on demand, and if not so paid, shall be recovered in the manner provided in Section 55 of Act XXII. of 1855 (an Act for the Regulation of Ports and Port dues) for the recovery of penalties imposed under that Act.

X.—It shall be lawful for the Superintendent of the Sanitarium, and it shall be his duty, to detain in the Sanitarium under his charge all persons who shall come or be brought to such Sanitarium under Sections III., IV., VI., or VIII., until they shall be discharged under a certificate to be granted under rules made by Government under Section XI. of this Act.

XI.—It shall be lawful for Government from time to time to make and publish general rules for the proper management and discipline of Sanitaria established under this Act, and for the disinfection or destruction of the personal property of persons suffering, or who have recently suffered, from any infectious disease dangerous to life; and for the disinfection and cleansing of vessels on board of which such persons are or recently have been; and from time to time to alter or repeal such rules. Any person who shall disobey such rules or any of them, shall be liable to the penalties provided in Section 271 of the Indian Penal Code.

XII.—It shall be lawful for Government from time to time to determine by notification what diseases are infectious diseases. Government shall, for the purposes of this Act, be held to be infectious diseases dangerous to life.

XIII.—It shall be lawful for Government, when necessary, to authorize any one or more persons to exercise all or any of the powers conferred by this Act on the Consulting Officer of Health, or on the Health Officer of the Port, provided that every such person shall be a Covenanted Medical Officer of Government, or a Member or Licentiate of any College of Physicians or Surgeons of the United Kingdom or of India, and shall exercise these powers subject to the general control of the Consulting Officer of Health.

XIV.—Whenever it shall appear to Government that, owing to the expected introduction of any infectious disease dangerous to life, or owing to other exceptional circumstances, the ordinary precautions authorised by this Act are insufficient to prevent the spread of such disease, it shall be lawful for Government, by notification, to make such orders, and from time to time to vary the same, as it shall deem expedient, for the enforcement of sanitary measures with respect to any vessel arriving at, or being within the limits of, the Port of Bombay, or in regard to any persons on board any such vessel, or their personal property. And any person disobeying such orders, or any of them, shall be liable to the penalties provided in Section 271 of the Indian Penal Code.

XV.—The word "vessel" denotes any thing made for the conveyance by water of human beings or of property.
